RIHANNA might have picked up a Brit Award 2011 for her mantlepiece on her visit over here.

But lady-of-the-moment Rihanna has made sure her US home has another special touch of British about it by picking up a piece of our very own artwork for her pad on her recent visit.

Ri Ri is blinging up her Beverly Hills home with this amazing portrait of Marilyn Monroe made entirely from Swarovski crystals.

The 5 x 5ft artwork was made up of a whopping 65,000 hand applied stones by London-based company Gemstone Creative.

It took the company three months to make and was made to order for the What's My Name star - who will be placing it on her wall at her luxury mansion.

Sarah Sultman and Mark Hirschel, the brains behind Gemstone Creative told OK.co.uk: "We are very excited to have been commissioned by Rihanna for this piece.

"The finished product truly is an incredible and mesmerizing work of art and we hope that it will give her much pleasure for many years to come."
